ANNUAL REPORT

MISSIONZ is part of the international group traditionally known as Pontifical Mission Societies but today is gradually getting more popularly called as MISSIO. We are specifically commissioned by the Pope to promote a universal missionary spirit, and provide spiritual and financial support to growing young Churches around the world. Our motto is: Believe. Live. Give. Believe in God, in others, and in oneself. Live what we believe. Give what we believe and live. Faith changes everything.

POPE

The Joy of the Gospel is the first papal exhortation penned by Pope Francis during the first year of his pontificate. It exposes the heart of his dream and vision for the Catholic Church during this pontificate: It is a missionary Church that is called to embark upon a new chapter of evangelization marked by the joy of the gospel, while pointing out new paths for the Church's journey in years to come.

He exhorts believers to go forth to offer everyone the life of Jesus Christ; and underlines his image of the Church. He writes: "I prefer a Church which is bruised, hurting and dirty because it has been out on the streets, rather than a Church which is unhealthy from being confined and from clinging to its own security. I do not want a Church concerned with being at the centre and then ends by being caught up in a web of obsessions and procedures. If something should rightly disturb us and trouble our consciences, it is the fact that so many of our brothers and sisters are living without the strength, light and consolation born of friendship with Jesus Christ, without a community of faith to support them, without meaning and a goal in life.

evangelization, and encourage believers to share financial resources. Thank you for your support. Please pray wholeheartedly for missionaries and local church leaders whose basic needs you meet through your donations. They bring the love of Jesus to others everyday through their spiritual and practical care. Please pray for the seminarians and religious novices you support, and for those who are still unable to take up their vocation due to a lack of available funds. Please pray for the millions of children you help throughout the world, and for the millions more in desperate need we hope to help together in the very near future.

We look forward to working with you in Mission this 2014.
Sincerely in the Word Divine,
Fr. Bernard Espiritu, SVD

PONTIFICAL MISSION SOCIETIES

MISSION [Pontifical Mission Societies] is the oldest Catholic Mission Aid agency. It was founded more than 190 years ago in France by Pauline Jaricot, a young lay woman.

The United Nations has a list of the 60 priority countries for child survival. The Pontifical Mission Societies internationally has current projects in at least 55 of them.

We are the Pope's own mission societies.

Internationally we are known as the Pontifical Mission Societies, MISSION for short, and each area of work is known as a society. Our work with the communities is known as the Propagation of the Faith, our work with Church Leaders is known as St. Peter the Apostle, our work with Children is known as Holy Childhood Association.

The Pontifical Mission Societies is the only Catholic organization with global works especially dedicated to children.

The dedication of missionaries of yesteryears who came from the western cultures has borne fruit as vocations to the priesthood and religious life that now flourish in Africa, Asia, and the Pacific. Many Catholic young men and women in the young churches are answering the call to serve. MISSIONZ supports young seminarians and religious all over the world through the help of generous

Your help allows them to live with dignity and face the challenges of life.

Mother of Perpetual Help Center, in Nong Bua Lamphu, Thailand, first opened in 1997 and became a Centre for persons with aids to come for counselling. Later as the needs grew the Centre developed other programs helping HIV families with self-help projects - in particular the cattle project - food and education programs to help children - a home for HIV infected and abandoned children - a hospice to care for HIV infected adults and later a home for HIV teenagers who were born HIV positive.

MISSIONZ has supported Mother of Perpetual Help Centre through the generous gifts of the Catholics in New Zealand. Bro. Damien Lunders, a Divine Word Missionary, coordinates and supervises the Centre together with the Sisters of Mother Teresa and dedicated lay leaders. Children born HIV/AIDS positive who have become orphans grow as normal children within the community.

Badessa, Ethiopia, 40 km south of the capital city Addis Ababa, is still a famine prone area. Many people lack adequate food and safe drinking water. The children are the most vulnerable group affected. The sisters continue to assist especially the malnourished and undernourished children from very poor families.

This year in 5 villages of Badessa the sisters came across 28 children younger than 5 years of age who were very malnourished. They have been given supplemental food 5 days each week, and their weights and health condition are monitored regularly.

Most of them have gained weight due to the proper food given, but if needed, additional help has always been readily done. Recently, 2 malnourished children had to be confined in the hospital for 2 weeks. They were anaemic and had digestive problems.

The Holy Spirit Sisters work with the Catholic Women Centre in Badessa in providing the parents health education and awareness related to hygiene

Sr. Beatrice Han, SSpS writes: "We are very grateful having received your financial support to help improve the health of the children."

MISSIONZ is sincerely grateful to our donors. This year, 2014, we are able to contribute to the Universal Fund of the Catholic Church a healthy amount to help in some important works being done in other parts of the world to promote the Catholic Faith. True, FAITH CHANGES EVERYTHING! The work among the children helps promote more humane living especially for those who have been born poor. Their dignity, both as human and as children of God, is enhanced. In the Pontifical Mission Societies (MISSIO) the work among and for the children is taken care of by the Holy Childhood Society.

“Your gift to MISSIONZ is like a mustard seed. It may be the smallest of all seeds, but when planted, it grows into a big bush where even the birds of the air can take shelter.”

The First Full Year of Pope Francis

13 March 2013 marked an important date in the modern history of the Catholic Church. It was the day when the world met for the first time the newly elected Pope Francis. As the unfamiliar name Mario Jorge Bergolio provoked questions about his identity, his chosen name Francis instantaneously gave clarity to a welcomed and fast dawning horizon of hope that ushered joy to a believing heart. The first images that came out of the television still mark my memory. His initial glance was the look of awe and wonder that graciously developed into a smile of confidence. No wonder, his first gaze already allowed a believer like me to glimpse into his heart that reflects his vision into a hopeful future. So far he has only confirmed in me the hope that something beautiful is waiting before us. His first papal exhortation rightly speaks of this insight. And at the heart of his dream is a missionary spirit.

"I dream of a "missionary option", that is, a missionary impulse capable of transforming everything, so that the Church's customs, ways of doing things, times and schedules, language and structures can be suitably channeled for the evangelization of today's world rather than for her self-preservation. The renewal of structures demanded by pastoral conversion can only be understood in this light: as part of an effort to make them more mission-oriented, to make ordinary pastoral activity on every level more inclusive and open, to inspire in pastoral workers a constant desire to go forth and in this way to elicit a positive response from all those whom Jesus summons to friendship with him. As John Paul II once said to the Bishops of Oceania: “All renewal in the Church must have mission as its goal if it is not to fall prey to a kind of ecclesial introversion” [Evangelii Gaudium 27]

St John Paul II, twenty years ago (November 1994) had an insightful statement in his Encyclical Tertio Millennio Adveniente where he spoke about the “new springtime of Christian life”. Pope Francis has put forward a blueprint of that insightful image. And we all are invited to make it real.

“No one can strip us of the dignity bestowed upon us by this boundless and unfailing love. With a tenderness which never disappoints, but is always capable of restoring our joy, he makes it possible for us to lift up our heads and to start anew. Let us not flee from the resurrection of Jesus, let us never give up, come what will. May nothing inspire more than his life, which impels us onwards!”
